ROBICHAUD, The Honourable H. J. — Senator, Dominion of Canada; formerly Minister of Fisheries, Government of Canada, Ottawa, Ont. Born Shipegan, a fishing community in New Brunswick, Nov. 2, 1911, the eldest of a family of twelve. His birthplace is in the constituency of Gloucester, which he has represented in the House of Commons since 1953. Educated: Holy Family Academy, Tracadie, N.B.; Sacred Heart College, Bathurst, N.B.; St. Joseph University, Memramcook, N.B. (B.A., 1931). Upon leaving university Mr. Robichaud joined the fishing business operated by his father, John G. Robichaud. Subsequently, during the period, 1932-37, he established and operated his own fish exporting firm and in the latter year joined the Connolly Lobster Co. of St. Andrews, N.B., as field agent in New Brunswick. In 1939 joined the Federal Department of Fisheries as an Inspector and after four years at the Newcastle, N.B., office he was transferred to take charge of the Department's Shediac office. In 1946, when the New Brunswick Department of Industry and Development decided to establish a Fisheries Division, he was asked to become its head as Director of Fisheries for the province. First duty as Director was the establishment of a Fisherman's Loan Board for the province for which he acted as Secretary until his resignation in 1952. His work in this connection provided impetus to the program of renovation and remodelling of the fishing fleet in eastern New Brunswick. Also during his term of office as Director of Fisheries for New Brunswick, member of Atlantic Herring Commission and represented the New Brunswick Government on the Atlantic Salmon Commission. Upon his election to the House of Commons in 1953, took a special interest in all matters concerning fisheries and, while in Opposition during 1957-63, he was recognized as its fisheries spokesman. In recognition of his work in the interests of the fishing industry of Canada, he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Commerce from the University of Moncton, N.B. in June 1964. Appointed to the Senate, July 9, 1968. Married and has nine children. Residence: Caraquet, N.B.
